CHOOSE LIFE – Pregnancy Hot Line (909) 398-4838

Jesus, open my eyes to your presence in the life of every child. Open my heart to joy in the birth of every child, a birth that reflects the joy of your own birth in Bethlehem. As you shared life in the womb of Mary, so now send your protection upon every child still in the womb, and grant to their mothers the strength and joy that comes from welcoming the gift of life.

15th SUNDAY IN ORDINARY TIME

July 12th, 2020

Reason

A normal individual, according to God's plan, is a person who does not follow all his emotions and let them guide him. That is "the blind leading the blind". The emotions are fickle and unpredictable. They always want pleasure. And pleasure is good sometimes and sometimes it is bad. A person is angry and his anger tells him it would be very good to knock this guy's block off. But reason, our highest faculty, says to us that that would only make things worse. You can't always do what your emotions want to do. You must follow reason. God inspired, reason. The Greek philosophers said, "Let reason rule," God has given us our intelligence to guide us. He expects us to use it.

Sometimes our emotions say that the "Ten Commandments" are old fashioned and we don't need to follow them, even though God gave them to us as the rules for life. But our emotions can be wrong. Let reason rule. Reason says that God is wiser than we are and if He has given us these rules this is what we must do.

We are often like a little kid who wants to run into the street to play. It is delightful to run in the street; it is so different. But his father, who is wiser, says he can't have fun in the street. To the little kid, his father is being mean and doesn't want him to have any fun. But we expect the little kid to obey his father, even if he doesn't understand why at that moment in time.

It is the same with us and with God; obedience is expected--required. A youth can play basketball and follow the rules and have a good game; or he can play ignoring the rules and ruin everything. The Ten Commandments are our rules for living on earth, they apply at all times, we can't use them sometimes and sometimes--not.

To live properly, reason must evaluate what emotions, always in a hurry, want to do. Right reason must guide us. Reason says we should eat healthy food; but our emotional urges want junk food. Reason says we need light to see, but not too much light; we should not look directly into the sun, at high noon, for instance, lest it damage our eyesight. Reason says the ear is for sound, but we shouldn't get too close to a loud noise.

Right reason tells us we are creatures and God is the creator of us and He is infinitely wiser than we are or ever will be. When He tells us to do something; that what we should do, for He is wise and we are not. We may not like to do it, just as a child doesn't like to go to bed and get the healthy sleep that it needs, but it is best for us. Not only does God know what is best, since He made us, but He loves us even more than we love ourselves and whatever He tells us to do is for our own good, no matter whether we agree or understand it or not.

-- Bishop Fulton J. Sheen
